B. GENERAL COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

All AES courses have been approved by the Lewis & Clark College of Arts and Sciences Committee on the Curriculum and offer Lewis & Clark College credit. A maximum of 24 credits may be applied toward a Lewis & Clark Bachelor of Arts degree. Students may be required to repeat a level if they do not meet the standards of the level.

Core Reading and Writing, Levels 1, 2, and 3 (10 hours per week): The underlying principle of the Core concept is the integration of language skills, emphasizing reading and writing to develop language proficiency. These courses are content-based; in other words, the content is the basis for all lessons. Throughout the levels, there is a continuum from a language skills focus for developing basic communication skills to an increasingly greater focus on developing academic language skills. These courses also guide students through the process of doing library research, debating a topic, and ultimately producing a research paper.

Communication Skills, Levels 1, 2 and 3 (5 hours/week): These courses are designed to complement the Reading and Writing Core. The underlying principle is the integration of language skills although there is a greater focus on listening and speaking skills. Communication Skills is also content-based. Students may not enroll in a Communications Skills course at a higher level than their writing course.

Advanced Writing Level 4 (5 hours/week) and Level 5 (3 hours/week): The goals of these courses include English language study with extensive practice in academic writing: developing a wide variety of sentence types and rhetorical patterns; appropriate writing and formatting conventions and independent in-depth research. Level 5 students are expected to complete assignments requiring more in-depth research and exercise greater initiative in completing those assignments.

Advanced Reading Levels 4 & 5 (5 hours/week): This course includes English language study based on unadapted readings of cultural and academic interest, fiction and non-fiction. The focus is on reading strategies, critical reading and thinking skills, as well as vocabulary acquisition skills and increased reading speed. Texts may vary from term to term, thus making it possible for transition-level and part-time students to repeat this course.

Seminar Levels 4 & 5 (5 hours/week): The seminar course focuses on an academic subject area, in direct preparation for undergraduate courses. Students are required to produce a research project, which is used as the basis of an oral presentation. The content of the Seminar varies from term to term, thus making it possible for transition-level and part-time students to repeat this course.

Integrated Skills Content-Based Topics Levels 1-4 (5 hours/week): The content-based topics offer specialized English instruction through a variety of topics. Students take two consecutive courses each term. The half-term courses allow students to study topics ranging from the humanities to the social sciences and sciences/technology. Content-based topics have been designed around such topics as Civil Rights, Sustainability, US History, the Global Economy, Literature, Test (TOEFL & IELTS) Preparation and Media. The topics at each level vary from term to term in order to give students a broader exposure to a variety of English language usage.

Introduction to Modes of Inquiry (AES 260) Level 5: This course requires full participation in an undergraduate course. The focus is on note-taking, listening comprehension, and application of integrated language skills required to succeed in an academic setting. Weekly meetings are scheduled with an audit supervisor to synthesize course content.

C. ACTIVITIES

There are many activities and student groups on the Lewis & Clark campus. They will give you an opportunity to practice your English and to meet other international students and Americans. If you are interested, go to the ASLC (Associated Students of Lewis & Clark) office in Templeton. Watch for announcements in your post office box and your email that will inform you of specific events. You can also get information from the student newspaper (The Pioneer Log), posters, and the campus radio station, KLC.

International Students of Lewis & Clark (ISLC) is an organization for all international and American students. It provides an opportunity for you to meet students from other countries and to enjoy social events, trips, and the International Fair. For information about the ISLC, talk to a staff member in the International Student and Scholars office. Their website is: <http://www.lclark.edu/offices/international> Community Friends Program allows AES students to meet and get to know Americans off campus. For many students this means visiting an American home, accompanying the family on outings, or attending special events such as picnics, plays, or dinners at the college. This program is optional. Students commit to seeing their Community Friend one to two times a month.

Conversation Groups bring together AES students and undergraduate Lewis & Clark students during the academic year. The undergraduates are volunteers interested in learning about people from other cultures and meeting new people. Early in Fall term, the Conversation Group Coordinator, a Lewis & Clark student intern, organizes the groups which then meet regularly.

Field Trips: Individual teachers schedule appropriate field trips for their courses. Participation is required.

College Outdoors provides the Lewis & Clark College community with access to the spectacular outdoor environments of the Pacific Northwest and beyond in a variety of activities including cross-country skiing, backpacking, whitewater sports, sea kayaking, and hiking. The group also provides on-campus events, which include slide programs, films, and seminars on outdoor topics. On most trips, College Outdoors personnel arrange for food pack-outs, transportation, organization, group equipment, and personal equipment such as wetsuits, rain gear and backpacks. Sign-ups for College Outdoor trips begin on Fridays at 9:00 and they fill up quickly. For more information, go to: <http://www.lclark.edu/programs/college-outdoors/>

Sports: Students sometimes get together for an afternoon or evening of volleyball, tennis, golf, soccer or other sports. Intramural sports are offered in the L & C community. This includes, for example, indoor soccer, dodge ball, softball, and ultimate frisbee. For more information, go to: <http://www.lclark.edu/recreation/intramurals/>
AES students who have been admitted to the College of Arts and Sciences are eligible to try out for any varsity team sport.

I. Tutoring

One-on-one and group tutoring is available for students every term through the Student Academic Affairs Board (SAAB) at LC. Sometimes AES instructors recommend a student see a tutor regularly (once or twice a week) in order to work on language skills that are especially challenging for that student. If you would like to arrange a tutor, talk to your Core Reading and Writing instructor at the beginning of the term. Your instructor will do his/her best to find a tutor who best suits your language learning goals and needs.

ACADEMIC POLICIES AND REGULATIONS

AES students are subject to all rules and regulations governing student conduct at Lewis & Clark College.

See: https://college.lclark.edu/student_life/student_conduct/

A. ENROLLMENT & REGISTRATION

AES offers a full course of study in Levels 1-3 of the program. Part-time study is not offered. All students must attend AES classes 18-20 clock hours per week.

In Levels 4 and 5, students who are admitted to the Lewis & Clark College of Arts & Sciences (CAS) as undergraduates may register for a full load of courses in AES and the CAS concurrently. Levels 4 and 5 students who are admitted to the AES program (but not the CAS) may register for AES courses and standardized test preparation courses at a SEVP-approved institution concurrently. See p. 15 for a detailed explanation of options at Levels 4 and 5.

B. INITIAL AES PLACEMENT

Placement is based on testing prior to registration and assessment of student performance during the first week of classes. If you leave for one or more semesters you must re-test prior to re-registering for courses. Students may not enroll in courses at a level above their Core Reading and Writing course.

C. ATTENDANCE

You must attend all classes/labs and be prepared. If you have too many absences from any course for a semester, you may have to repeat that course. If you continue to miss too many classes, you may be put on probation or suspended from AES. (Note that excessive absences may result in a violation of your F-1 student visa status). If you are sick and will not be in class, call or email your instructors. Then call a classmate and find out about the assignments before the next class.

You may be marked absent if:

- You are not in class.
- You are more than 10 minutes late.
- You do not have your books or class supplies.
- You have not done your assignment and/or you are unprepared to contribute to the class.
- You leave the class before it has ended.

Instructors will describe their attendance policies on the course syllabus. Policies may vary between instructors.

D. ACADEMIC HONESTY

Copying the words or ideas of other people is called plagiarism and is a serious offense. Cheating is also a very serious matter in academic work. If you plagiarize or cheat, you will fail the test or homework. A letter will be put in your file about the cheating incident. Also, you may fail the course or be expelled from AES and Lewis & Clark College. For more information, see College Policies: https://college.lclark.edu/student_life/student_conduct/

E. GRADES AND PROMOTION

The following grades are given in AES:

Letter	GPA	Description
A	4.0	excellent
A-	3.7
B+	3.3
B	3.0	above average
B-	2.7
C+	2.3
C	2.0	average
C-	1.7	pass/no pass
D+	1.3
D	1.0	below average
F	0	failing
CR	credit
NC	no credit

If you receive a grade of "C" (2.0) or above, you will advance to the next level or section. If you receive a grade of "C-"(1.7) or below, you may have to repeat the course. Students may not enroll in courses at a level above their Core Reading and Writing course. If you receive a grade of CR, your instructors will determine whether you will advance to the next level or repeat the current level. Students must officially request the grading option of CR/NC during the add/drop period.

F. PROBATION AND EXPULSION

You may be placed on academic probation or expelled from AES, if you

- Earn less than a "C" average (2.0).
- Fail your Core Reading and Writing or Advanced Writing course.
- Have excessive absences.

Academic Warning: At midterm, if you have a grade of "C-"(1.7) or below in the majority of your courses or have excessive absences, you are officially on Academic Warning. If you do not improve your grades by the end of the term, you will have to repeat the level and be on Academic Probation the following term.

Academic Probation: If your semester GPA is "C-"(1.7) or below or you have had excessive absences, you will be on Academic Probation. If you do not earn at least a "C" average each semester thereafter or if you continue to have excessive absences, you may be expelled.

Expulsion: AES students may appeal in writing to the AES Director.

Note: The AES program adheres to all Lewis & Clark rules and regulations on academic standing. Appeal guidelines for students admitted to L&C are outlined in the College Catalog: <http://www.lclark.edu/live/files/6190-cas-catalogpolicies-and-procedurespdf>

G. PART-TIME UNDERGRADUATE STUDY

The AES program offers students accepted to Lewis & Clark College of Arts & Sciences (CAS) the opportunity to take both English language courses and Lewis & Clark undergraduate courses simultaneously in Level 4 and Level 5. These are the requirements for part-time academic study:

- You must be admitted to the CAS. Generally, this means that you should have a "B" average on your high school record.
- You must have the recommendation of your AES instructors.
- You should maintain at least a B average in AES and receive no grade less than a B- in Levels 3-5 of AES.

All three of the above requirements must be met before you will be permitted to study in the undergraduate program. Only students admitted to the CAS of Lewis & Clark College may enroll in undergraduate courses. See the chart on page 15 for registration guidelines.

H. TRANSITION TO THE LEWIS & CLARK UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAM

Students who are admitted to the Lewis & Clark College of Arts and Sciences (CAS) as undergraduates should maintain a B average in their courses in Levels 3, 4, and 5. They should receive no grade lower than a B- in order to transition to full-time undergraduate courses. Permission to transition rests with the AES faculty.

If you are accepted to the CAS undergraduate program, courses AES 163 and above may be taken for academic credit. Up to 24 AES credits may be applied as elective credit toward an undergraduate degree at Lewis & Clark College.

I. AES 260: INTRODUCTION TO MODES OF INQUIRY (Supervised Audit)

If you are in Level 4 or 5 and you have the recommendation of AES faculty, you may register for AES 260 to attend and observe a course in the undergraduate program. This is called a "supervised audit." The requirements for the supervised audit are:

- You must meet at least once a week with your AES supervisor to discuss your notes and the course assignments.
- You must attempt to do all of the assigned readings and, if permitted by the LC professor, complete all papers and take the tests and examinations.
- You must also report on your experiences in the course in a presentation to the other AES 260 students.

K. SUMMER SESSION ACADEMIC POLICIES

AES has a full program in the summer, divided into two sessions, Summer I and Summer II. Each of the summer terms is graded separately and transcribed separately. Note the following policies:

- At the end of Summer II, students will be promoted to the next AES level depending on their grades. Students with C or above in their Advanced Writing or Core Reading and Writing course will move to the next level. Students with a C- may be retained or promoted based on their readiness for the next level. The instructors' decision is final.
- Students who only complete Summer I and do not complete Summer II will not move to the next level in the fall.
- Students who study Spring term and do not study either Summer terms must take the placement exam during New Student Orientation Week in late August. This placement exam will determine students' level for Fall term.

L. CLASS CANCELLATION/ SNOW POLICY

When it snows heavily at night or early morning or when there are icy conditions, Lewis & Clark may cancel the first morning class. You should check the Lewis & Clark homepage, listen to the radio or TV, or call the LC Snow Line, 503-768-SNOW (503-768-7669). If you hear that Lewis & Clark undergraduate classes are cancelled, there will be no AES classes all day. If you hear that school is opening late, plan to begin at 10:20 am, but call the office first (503-768-7310) to make certain AES is open. Remember: if you are worried about driving, DON'T DRIVE! It is more important to be safe. If you have any doubts, call the AES office. If there is no answer, do not come to campus. Please be careful when driving and walking in the snow and ice.

FINANCIAL POLICIES AND REGULATIONS

A. ACCOUNT STATEMENTS

The Lewis & Clark College Student and Departmental Accounts Office is responsible for the billing and collection of tuition, fees, and other related costs of enrollment. These costs will be charged to your student account with Lewis & Clark. Your student account is in your name. The Student and Departmental Accounts Office will produce statements itemizing the activity on your account and will e-mail them to you at your Lewis & Clark email address.

The first statement of each semester is generated before the beginning of the semester. Fall semester statements are emailed in July, and Spring semester statements are emailed in November. The Fall semester deadline to settle your student account is typically in early August. The Spring semester deadline to settle your student account is typically in mid-December. To avoid any late payment penalties, your account must be settled by the first day of the term in which you are enrolled whether or not you have received a statement. If class registration occurs after the semester due date has passed, payment is due at the time of registration. Monthly statements will be e-mailed to you if your student account is carrying a balance due to the school after the semester due date.

B. METHODS OF PAYMENT

The Student and Departmental Accounts Office accepts the following forms of payment:

- Cash
- Check
- Debit card (in-person transactions only)

In partnership with Tuition Management Systems, Lewis & Clark is able to accept the following forms of payment online and by phone for student account balances:

- Checking account deduction (no fee)
- Savings account deduction (no fee)
- MasterCard, Visa, Discover, and American Express (convenience fee of 2.2% - 3.5%)

Lewis & Clark has partnered with peerTransfer to offer a simple, more efficient way to streamline international tuition payments through wire transfers. By offering favorable conversion rates unmatched by larger financial institutions, peerTransfer enables international students to save a significant amount of money on their payments, provides the ability to track the payment progress, provides international around the clock support, and allows faster payment disbursement to the school.

All payments must be made in U.S. dollars; foreign currency will not be accepted. For complete details regarding accepted methods of payment, visit the Student and Departmental Accounts Office website at http://www.lclark.edu/offices/account_services/

C. NON-PAYMENT OF CHARGES

Students with outstanding account balances will not be allowed to register for or attend courses during future semesters. Existing registration for future semesters may be canceled as a result of an outstanding student account balance. Lewis & Clark also reserves the right to withhold grade reports, transcripts, and diplomas. Full payment of the balance due is required to facilitate the release of these documents and to clear a student for class registration. Past-due balances are subject to late fees. Late fees are assessed as follows: balances of $999 and below are subject to a $10 late fee per semester, balances of $1000 and above are subject to a per semester $100 late fee.

D. CHARGE ADJUSTMENT POLICY – FALL AND SPRING SEMESTERS

Students who withdraw from the College must follow the Withdrawal procedures found in the College of Arts and Sciences Catalog. Withdrawals are to be made directly with the Registrar's Office. The date of notification appearing on the completed withdrawal form is the date used for adjusting charges (excluding residence costs). In addition, students who receive financial aid are subject to a separate Financial Aid Withdrawal Policy detailed in the College of Arts and Sciences Catalog.

Tuition and fees, including the Associated Students of Lewis & Clark (ASLC) Student Body Fee, are prorated on a per-day basis based on the academic calendar, up to the 60% point in the semester. After the 60% point in the semester, the charges for tuition and fees are not adjusted.

Room and board charges are prorated on a per-day basis through the date a student formally checks out of campus housing. A student is financially responsible for the condition of the vacated room.

If a student withdraws from the College prior to the 15th day of the term, the fee for the school's student health insurance plan and the green energy fee will be reversed in full. If a student withdraws after the 15th day of the term, the fee for the school's student health insurance plan and the green energy fee will not be adjusted.

Course fees and miscellaneous charges such as library fines and health center charges, will not be adjusted if a student withdraws from the College.

E. SUMMER SESSION FINANCIAL POLICIES

Payment of Summer session tuition and fees is due on the first day of the Summer session that the student is attending. The College does not e-mail bills for Summer sessions in advance of the payment due date. The consequences of carrying an outstanding balance on a student account are detailed under Non-payment of Charges above.

If it becomes necessary for a student to withdraw from CAS Summer Sessions, the student must follow the withdrawal procedures outlined in the College of Arts and Sciences Catalog. The College's policies allow for summer charges to be prorated based on the date of notification appearing on the completed withdrawal form. Students are liable for charges in accordance with the following adjustment policies:

Classes dropped or withdrawn from on or before Friday of the first week of summer session are prorated on a per-day basis. After the Friday of the first week of class, the charges for tuition are not adjusted.

F. CHECK CASHING

The Student and Departmental Accounts Office can cash checks for current faculty, staff, and students. You must have a zero balance on your account, and you must present a picture ID. The limit is $25 per day.

APPLICATION TO OTHER COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

A. BEFORE YOU APPLY

It is important that you contact colleges or universities as early as possible (one or two semesters) before you want to begin your studies. Here are some suggested steps to find a program of study:

- Talk with your advisor.
- Search for admissions and college catalogue information on the Internet.
- After you have selected the institutions you are interested in, send an e-mail to the international student admissions offices.

B. HOW TO APPLY

You may apply to universities on-line. Here are some steps to help you apply:

- Consult with your AES advisor.
- Fill out the application carefully and completely. Your AES advisor can help you. Most institutions require an application fee.
- Request an official transcript of your AES grades from the Office of the Registrar in Templeton.

<http://college.lclark.edu/offices/registrar/transcripts>

Request transcripts from the Lewis & Clark Registrar's Office in the basement of Templeton. Transcripts cost $5 for one, $10 for two, and $2 for each additional transcript when ordered at the same time. Allow two to four business days to process your transcript request. At busy times, such as the end of the academic year, the wait may be longer. The Registrar will send the transcript directly to the universities you have selected.

Letters of Recommendation from AES Instructors: Fill out the Recommendation Request Form at least two weeks before you need the letter: http://www.lclark.edu/programs/academic_english_studies/current_students

C. TESTING

Students who are applying for academic study to most universities must take an English proficiency test.

- TOEFL: The iBT version of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) is given at two locations in Portland. You can find TOEFL information from <http://www.ets.org/ell>
- IELTS: The IELTS is given at the ELS Language Center at Concordia University in NE Portland. Call 503-280-8552 for more information.

HOUSING

Students are advised to live on campus and are generally assigned American roommates for the academic year. However, students may choose to live off campus and make their own arrangements for off-campus housing. Off-campus housing information is available in the AES Office. AES has no control over the cleanliness or condition of off-campus apartments.

A. ON CAMPUS

Rooms are usually available in Lewis & Clark residence halls (dormitories). If you live off-campus and want to apply for a dormitory room, please ask the AES Administrative Specialist for an application. You should be sure to apply before the official deadline.

Residence hall rooms are furnished with all necessary furniture (bed, study desk, etc.). There are telephone hookups in each room if you would like a landline. All residence halls have wireless Internet connections. Bedding is not included.

B. OFF CAMPUS

Homestays: For homestay information, contact ANDEO-International Homestays. ANDEO is a non-profit organization that finds American homes for international students. The monthly fee includes meals.

Renting an Apartment or a House: Important points to remember about renting:

- You must sign a lease or rental agreement. Be sure you read and understand the agreement before you sign it. Inspect the apartment carefully before moving in. List in the rental agreement any damages to the apartment or parts of the apartment that are not clean. Take pictures of any existing damage to the apartment.
- Learn how to use the dishwasher, heater, air conditioner, stove, etc. If you don't know how, ask the manager.
- Pay your rent on time.
- Keep your apartment clean.
- You may have to pay a cleaning deposit and first and last month's rent in advance when you rent an apartment.
- You must tell the manager in writing one month before you move out that you plan to do so. If you leave before the date on your rental agreement, you may not get your deposit back. Also, if you break or damage something in the apartment, you will not get your deposit back.
- Be polite and considerate to your neighbors.

Furniture: Most apartments do not have furniture. You can either buy or rent.

D. HEALTH INSURANCE

In the United States, it is very expensive to go to a doctor or to the hospital. If you do not have your own health insurance, you must enroll in the College insurance plan. You will automatically be billed for the College plan unless you show proof of your plan to the Student and Departmental Accounts Office. Please note the following policies:

- The LC student group health insurance gives you hospital and accident coverage in addition to the use of the Student Health Center.
- Students enrolled at LC in the summer must purchase insurance coverage. Students are not automatically billed for insurance in the summer.
- The Lewis & Clark health insurance plan does not include dental (teeth) or optical (eye) benefits.

CULTURAL PERSPECTIVES

A. CULTURE SHOCK

Often when people live in a foreign country, they may suffer from what is known as "culture shock." They might experience homesickness, boredom, excessive sleeping, overeating or drinking, withdrawal (spending too much time alone, only spending time with people from your own country, etc.), unexplained crying, or physical ailments (headaches, stomachaches, etc.). There are several ways a person can lessen "culture shock":

- Immerse yourself in your own culture for a few hours: talk to people from your own country, eat some typical food, and listen to some of your music.
- Learn as much as you can about the U.S. and its people.
- Teach others about your culture.
- Look for logical reasons behind the strange differences between U.S. culture and your own. Observe and try to find the patterns.
- Don't always stay with friends who are not open to learning about other cultures.
- Talk to a North American friend who can explain the things you don't understand. Ask questions!
- Keep a sense of humor and have faith in yourself!

B. PUNCTUALITY

It is very important to be on time. Classes, meetings, appointments, public ceremonies, weddings, funerals, and religious services start promptly at the stated time. People are expected to arrive at these functions five or ten minutes early. Most people in the United States expect a prompt answer to invitations, and they expect other people to come to appointments on time. If they promise to meet someone at a specific time, they do. If they will be late or cannot make the appointment, they call to notify the person they are supposed to meet.

C. ALCOHOL AND DRUGS

As a Lewis & Clark student, you will be expected to abide by Oregon state law and Lewis & Clark regulations concerning the use of alcohol and drugs. In Oregon you must be at least 21 years of age to legally consume alcohol. At any age, it is illegal to drive if you have been drinking alcohol. It is illegal to drink alcohol in public on campus; alcohol at campus parties or in public places is not allowed. The use of narcotics and any non-prescription drug is against the law and is strictly forbidden at Lewis & Clark. For more information, see the Dean of Students and the Campus Safety office at Lewis & Clark.

D. ACADEMIC SKILLS

The following are suggestions for finding academic success at Lewis & Clark College:

- It is very important to be motivated and to concentrate on your studies.
- You should have a quiet place to study where you will not be distracted.
- Set a definite schedule and then follow it. Organize your study hours with breaks to go for a walk or check email.

- Do not expect to learn material during the last few days before an examination. "Cramming" will not help you. Instead, review your notes and course readings periodically.
- Remember that doing all of your homework and attending class is very important. Your final grade will be based on homework, class participation, quizzes, papers, and exams.
- Plan to spend an average of two hours (including weekend study) on outside preparation for each hour that you spend in class.

TRANSPORTATION

A. CARS

Car Insurance: If you own a car, you must have liability car insurance. This is an Oregon law. If you are convicted for not having insurance, you might go to jail.

Driver's License: You can use your International License until you get your Oregon Driver's License. If you are stopped by an officer, tell him or her you are a student at Lewis & Clark College. It is much better to have an Oregon license. You can get information and the Oregon Driver's Manual or audio CD to study for the driving test from the Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV):

DMV Lake Oswego Office

3 SW Monroe Parkway, Suite V, Lake Oswego (503-299-9999)

<http://www.oregon.gov/ODOT/DMV/Forms/manuals.shtml>

Seat belts: You must wear seat belts in a car while it is in motion (both drivers and passengers). If you do not, you may be given a ticket and a fine. Children must be restrained in car seats. For more information on car seat safety, see: www.actsoregon.org/CPSLaws.html

Cell phones: You may not talk or text on your cell phone while driving. This is a law in Oregon. If you do, you could be given a ticket and be fined.

Registration: Your car must be registered with the DMV and have an up-to-date (current) license plate. All used cars must pass an inspection test at a DEQ (Department of Environmental Quality) test center. For schedules and locations, see: <http://www.deq.state.or.us/aq/VIP/>

Field Trips: Students are not expected to take classmates in their cars on AES field trips. Please discuss transportation with your instructor.

Parking at Lewis & Clark: If you drive your car on campus during the academic year (Spring and Fall terms), you must register your car with the Campus Safety Office. They will give you a parking permit sticker or a hanging tag for your car. During Spring and Fall, parking permits for student who live off-campus are $165 each semester; carpool parking permits $82.50 each semester. Cars without a parking permit will be ticketed or towed away. It is very expensive to get your car back (about $175), and you must buy a permit before your car is released to you.

During the summer, you do not need to register your car. Parking is free on campus during May, June, July, and August.

At all times during the year, students should park their cars only in specific places on campus. Cars without registration tags and cars parked illegally will be ticketed. Do not park just anywhere. The fact that others are illegally parked doesn't give you an excuse to park there. Fire lanes are places where there is a NO PARKING sign and/or a red curb. Handicapped zones are marked with blue or stripes. It is illegal, and very expensive, to park in a handicapped zone or a fire zone. You will get a ticket and have to pay a large amount of money. If you do not pay your tickets, you will not be able to get a transcript or register for classes at the end of the term. For more information, contact the Campus Safety Office, Lewis & Clark College, 503-768-7855.

B. BUS SERVICE

Tri-Met (Portland bus transportation): The #39 Lewis & Clark Tri-Met bus runs between Lewis & Clark College and the Fred Meyer/Burlingame Transit Station on Barbur Blvd. This bus is very convenient if you just want to go shopping at Fred Meyer or visit nearby banks. There is no Tri-Met bus service from Lewis & Clark after 7:00 pm and on weekends. If you want to go downtown, you must transfer from the #39 bus to the #12 bus at the Fred Meyer/Burlingame Transit Station on Barbur Blvd.

Exact change is needed when you board Tri-Met busses. You may also purchase a monthly bus pass at a 50% discount or a book of 10 bus tickets (valid at any time) from the Campus Safety Office.

LC Shuttle Service: During the academic year (September – May), there are daily free shuttle buses running from campus to the Burlingame Fred Meyer area, and from the campus to downtown Portland. The downtown shuttle runs as late as 11:10 p.m. on weekdays and as late as 2:00 a.m. on the weekend. Schedules are available at the Information Desk in Templeton or at the Campus Safety Office. For more information, call 503-768-7857 or see http://www.lclark.edu/offices/transportation_and_parking/shuttle

During the Summer term (May – August), shuttle service is limited to afternoon and evenings, Friday – Sunday.

- School registration: You must be enrolled in school full-time and take a complete course of study.
- Traveling home or to another country: You must make sure that you have the necessary visa and documents before you leave the United States. If you plan to go home for vacation, or to any other country, be sure that you:

C. STUDENT VISAS

The U.S. Consulate outside of the United States issues your visa, which must be valid for you to enter the United States. However, if your visa expires while you are in the United States, you may remain in the US as long as you are still an F-1 student. See the AES Administrative Specialist for exact regulations.

D. I-20

You are given an I-20 when you are accepted into our program. This is the form that is signed when you leave the U.S. for a temporary absence. Keep your I-20 in a safe place with your passport. Keep copies of your I-20 and other important passport pages in a different location. Don't carry your passport with you to school every day.

E. PASSPORT RENEWAL

You renew your passport at your home embassy/consulate. You can get the address from the AES office or from the International Student and Scholars office. Always send your passport by registered or certified mail.

F. TRANSFER

In order to release your SEVIS record to your new institution, AES will need a copy of your admissions letter and, if the new institution requires it, a transfer release form. The new institution will provide a new I-20 for you.

TRAVEL

A. INSIDE THE UNITED STATES

If you travel to any city or state inside the United States, you should carry your passport, I-94, and I-20 (student) copy. Carry a photocopy of your I-20, I-94 and the first pages of your passport in a separate suitcase.

B. OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES

To re-enter the US, you will need your passport and your I-20 with a current signature from Lewis & Clark. Contact the AES Administrative Specialist if you have questions about the validity of your I-20.

C. BOOKSTORE

You may purchase all of your textbooks and other school supplies at the bookstore, which is located in Templeton Center. Some students prefer to buy textbooks on-line. If you do this, it is very important to order exactly the same books that the other students have, and to make sure you have them on the first day of class.

D. IDENTIFICATION CARDS (ID)

Passport: You should NOT carry your passport with you every day. You can use your Lewis & Clark ID or an Oregon ID card for identification. Keep your passport at home.

Lewis & Clark Student ID: You will get a Lewis & Clark student ID card during your first week here. If you lose your ID card, go to the Campus Safety Office to get another card. There is a $5 fee for replacing a lost card.

Oregon ID: If you drive a car, you can use your Oregon Driver's License for proof of age and cashing checks. If you don't drive, you can get an official Oregon ID card at the Department of Motor Vehicles. This ID is similar to a driver's license and you can use it for proof of age. You should take your passport, your Lewis & Clark student ID, and proof of your Portland address when you apply for your Oregon ID Card.

INFORMATION ABOUT PORTLAND

A. BANKS

There are a number of banks on Barbur Boulevard, in the Hillsdale shopping area, and in downtown Portland. They all provide the same basic services, and you can have a savings account and checking account at any one of them. You can open an account if you have a minimum deposit and two pieces of ID (a passport and a Lewis & Clark ID). A check written on a foreign account usually takes 12 to 28 days to be processed.

AES will assist you in opening a bank checking account. A small service charge may be required, or interest may be earned on the balance, depending on the type of checking account. It is important for you to have a checking account because some places do not accept credit cards.

Two ATMs are available in Templeton Student Center. They service accounts from most banks.

B. SHOPPING AREAS

Food: The food market nearest to campus is Market of Choice, about 1.5 miles from campus. Farther down the road, on Barbur Boulevard, is the Fred Meyer shopping complex, which has an extensive grocery section.

Clothing and Department Store Goods: There are many malls and other shopping areas in Portland. You can get to some of them by bus or Lewis & Clark shuttle. Check with the AES office. Some of the areas include Pioneer Square (downtown Portland), Lloyd Center (NE Portland), and Washington Square (Portland/Beaverton).
