Floor Preference

The majority of floors in our residence halls have single gender rooms and mixed gender community restrooms. Please review the following options of available floor types and rank your preferences. Note: This may affect your hall assignment. (If a floor with a mixed gender community restroom is unacceptable, do NOT include it in your ranking.) 1-Most preferred 2- Acceptable 3-Least preferred

_____ Single Gender Floor (with male or female designated restrooms, limited availability)

_____ Mixed Gender Floor (with male or female designated restroom)

_____ Mixed Gender Floor (with mixed gender community restroom)

Room Preference

The residence halls offer several different room occupancy types: Quads (4 students), Triples (3 students), Doubles (2 students) and Singles. Requests for single rooms are assessed on an individual basis and may require additional paperwork. Single rooms have higher room rent.

Which room types are you amenable to living in for the 2018-2019 year? ☐ Quad ☐ Triple ☐ Double ☐ Single

No specific room type is guaranteed based on these preferences. Additionally, roommate requests may affect your assignment.

Do you have a specific roommate request? If yes, please write that student's name: _____

Diversity & Inclusion

Campus Living is committed to creating a supportive, interdependent, and educationally purposeful residential community for Lewis & Clark College. To that end we celebrate the diversity of our campus population and seek to provide safe, inclusive, supportive, and positive residential experiences for ALL of our students. The following questions are designed to help us place students in an environment that allows them to be their most authentic selves.

Lewis & Clark has a large population of International students from all over the world who are interested in rooming with American students so that they can immerse themselves in the language and culture. Would you be interested in living with an International student? ☐ Yes ☐ No

Campus Living seeks to provide a safe and supportive environment for LGBTQIA+ students and looks to place them with other students who are allies. Gender inclusive is defined as being open to all persons of all gender identities and/or gender expression. An ally is defined as a person who is supportive of members of the LGBTQIA+ community.

Do you identify as LGBTQIA+? ☐ Yes ☐ No ☐ I choose not to answer (Please only answer if you feel comfortable and safe doing so.)

Would you be able to be a supportive roommate to an LGBTQIA+ student? ☐ Yes ☐ No

Please indicate the gender identity/ies of people you would be comfortable living with: ☐ Male ☐ Female ☐ _____

Are you interested in actively pursuing Gender Inclusive Housing (rooming with a person regardless of their gender)? ☐ Yes ☐ No

If yes, Campus Living staff may initiate a follow-up conversation with you.

Some of our students require additional assistance by way of a service or assistance animal so that they can be successful at Lewis & Clark.

Would you be comfortable living with a roommate who has a service/assistance animal? ☐ Yes ☐ No Details: _____
