CATALOG DESCRIPTION

Applications of family systems approach to treatment of families in crisis and transition. Topics include issues such as substance abuse, domestic violence, sexual abuse, trauma and loss, poverty, and chronic illnesses. A portion of this course emphasizes clinical case conceptualization and treatment planning.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Family therapists are continually confronted with violent relational systems. Family violence is widespread and heeds competency, awareness, and action from family therapists on an individual, familial, and societal level. This course is designed to provide family therapists with introductory knowledge and skills for the assessment and intervention of family violence. The curriculum is informed primarily by feminist and critical multicultural theories and practices

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Students in this course will develop a working knowledge of assessing and treating domestic violence in the treatment of individuals, couples, children, and families from a relational/systemic perspective. This includes developing adequate safety and intervention plans.

ASSIGNMENTS

Readings

Students are expected to complete the assigned readings prior to class and to synthesize and apply them in class. Classroom discussions are an opportunity to bring up questions about the assigned readings, deepen one's understanding of the issues under study, and integrate course material with one's own personal and professional experience. Demonstration that reading assignments have been completed is worth 10 points.

Resources Paper

Please provide an overview of reporting practices (mandated reporting laws) in the state of Oregon and Washington in regards to domestic violence as victim's rights in terms of legal persecution of perpetrator(s). In addition, create a list of referrals to hotlines, group therapy, survivors of domestic violence groups, financial help from state agencies to pay for recovery, and any other resource you can find to provide to your client. These papers will be shared with your peers.

The paper is worth 20 points.

Final paper

Students will complete a 4-6 page final paper. A case example will be provided and students will be asked to discuss case conceptualization, treatment options, and relevant self-of-the-therapist issues. Students are expected to use theoretical literature and research in support of their ideas and opinions. At least 5 peer-reviewed articles or book chapters should be cited. Instructions for completing the final paper will be provided in class.

The final paper should be double spaced, 12 pt font, and in APA 5 format. The paper should be submitted via e-mail (marisolg1965@yahoo.com and benkomir@sbcglobal.net) Late papers will receive lower grades.
