OMA Spring Banquet 2010

Multicultural Affairs Means...

Creating Community :: Exploring Identity :: Experiencing Cultures

Learn What's New In OMA

New Space: The Office of Multicultural Affairs got a "new look" this summer, along with the International Students Office, and Student Transitions Experiences. The space is designed with students in mind, so come lounge on the couches, cafe tables, or in the office of your favorite OMA staffer.

Multicultural Resource Center: We have new furniture and a new attitude in the MRC. Staff will hold office hours, and the space is open to any students during office hours. Hold meetings here or just hang out and peruse the new library.

New Student Organization: The student leaders of BSU, NSU and GLU have come together to create MOSAIC (Multicultural Organizations Seeking An Inclusive Campus). Membership is open to everyone, and ideas for programming and social activities is welcome. Come to the MOSAIC Welcome Barbecue and get a free T-Shirt.

Pluralism & Unity Project: is a student-led programming board that is creating a safe, inclusive and culturally competent community for everyone regardless of race, ethnicity, national origin, sexual orientation, gender or gender expression, religion, age, or ability. Get sponsored for events by submitting a Diversity Initiative Grant! Get Off "The Hill": OMA will sponsor 2 free off-campus events each semester, including College Outdoors trips. Visit the website for details.

OMA Reader's Circle: Join us to discuss fall and spring book selection for LC's most avid and curious readers.
