Dear Ms. Baker:

I am writing to request you cease and desist feeding the feral cats. Their waste is causing unsanitary conditions in the neighborhood and specifically in my strawberry patches. They are dirty and loud, and you are only making the problem worse.

In addition, you have created a little highway of treats for every animal looking for a free meal. I have seen raccoons, squirrels, opossums, skunks, rabbits and various other animals munching away on the cat food you put out every day. I am scared to sit in my yard for fear of rabies and other horrible diseases. I don't know if I will contract something in my yard that will then hurt Princess. We are prisoners in our home.

You have no respect or consideration for me or your other neighbors. I am sure no one else appreciates your little colony of animals, but no one else has enough guts to say anything. I am saying something because I am tired of it.

Stop feeding the cats.

Sincerely,

Timothy H. Conrad
Your Neighbor
