Korean Studies Scholar in Residence: Lewis & Clark College, a private liberal arts college with 2,000 undergraduates, invites applications for a one-year, full-time Scholar-in-Residence position in the East Asian Studies Program beginning Fall, 2013. Preferred teaching fields include disciplines in the social sciences and humanities. Ph.D. required at the time of appointment. Potential for excellent teaching and research at an undergraduate institution are essential. The successful candidate will teach one course per semester, pursue research, and engage in the intellectual life of the College by giving public presentations about his/her ongoing research and guest lectures in colleagues' courses. The College is committed to preparing students for leadership in an increasingly interdependent world, and affirms the educational benefits of diversity. (Seehttp://www.lclark.edu/dept/about/diversity.html) A complete application must include (1) a letter of application which includes a statement of teaching philosophy; (2) a curriculum vitae; (3) evidence of teaching effectiveness; (4) sample of scholarship; (5) graduate transcripts, and (6) three letters of recommendation (uploaded separately by the referees). All materials should be addressed to Chair, Korean Studies Search Committee and must be submitted via Interfolio: http://interfolio.com/apply/21026. Click "Apply" to create your free account. Review of applications will begin on March 1, 2013. Preliminary interviews will be conducted at AAS in San Diego, March 2013. Lewis & Clark College, located in Portland, OR, is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The College will conduct background checks on the finalists for the position.