

The Central American Conflict Contention for Peace and Stability

Tuesday

May 8, 1984

3:15 p.m. A high ranking State Department official representing the Reagan Administration.
7:30 p.m. Ernesto Rivas-Gallont Ambassador from El Salvador to the United States.

Wednesday

May 9, 1984

3:15 p.m. Curtis Cutter Senior Associate at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and former secretary for congressional relations under the Carter Administration. He is president of Interworld Consultants and the author of numerous books and articles.
7:30 p.m. Richard Fagan Gildred Professor of Latin American Studies, Stanford University. He is a foremost expert on political change in the region and a prolific author on the topic.

Thursday

May 10, 1984

3:15 p.m. Rick Rolf Author of Nuclear Freeze. Press Secretary and chief foreign policy advisor to Senator Mark Hatfield. Rolf helped initiate the freeze movement and is active in congressional foreign relations. Also speaking, a Washington-based spokesman and representative of the Nicaraguan government to the U.S.
7:30 p.m. Robert Leiken Senior fellow at the Georgetown Institute for Strategic Studies. He is a well known authority on Soviet involvement in the region and a respected author of many books and articles.

Lewis & Clark College

22nd Annual International Affairs Symposium

In cooperation with the World
Affairs Council of Oregon.

May 8-10, Templeton College Center

Lewis & Clark College
Portland, Oregon 97219
22nd Annual
International Affairs
Symposium
May 8-10, 1984

Nonprofit Organization
U.S. Postage

PAID
Portland, Oregon
Permit No. 438

Acknowledgements:

James A. Gardner, President, Lewis and Clark College & Law School
Andrew Rembert, Dean of Faculty
Joseph M. Ha, Symposium Coordinator and Chairman, International Affairs Department
Richard Peck, Associate Professor, International Affairs Department
Robert Mandel, Associate Professor, International Affairs Department
Martha C. Gregory, Director of Special Gifts
Richard Sorenson, Vice-President for Student Affairs
Michael Ford, Director of Student Activities
Charles Charnquist, Director of Public Information
Risa Owen, Director of Publications
Barbara McDonald, Secretary, Office for Institutional Advancement
Karen A. Nairn, Secretary, International Affairs Department
David Hearth, Chairman, International Affairs Symposium
Ki Kim, President, International Affairs Association
Paul Johnson, President, Associated Students of Lewis & Clark
Symposium Student Steering Committee: Patrick Mahaffy, Paul Jorgensen, Kathy Scannell, Walter Minty, Brian Kidnay
Special Recognition: Rick Rolf, Press Secretary and Chief Foreign Policy Advisor to Senator Mark Hatfield