

Creative PDX: Exploring the Arts in Portland New Student Trip

Explore your new home through the arts! Portland is known for its unique and quirky creative culture including visual art, music, dance, theatre, literary arts and more. This program will give you the opportunity to get to know the Portland arts scene while also getting the chance to participate in a Guest Artist Residency program, collaborating with a nationally recognized artist making new work at Lewis & Clark.

What will I do during the trip?

- Collaborate 4-5 hours a day in a performance lab with interdisciplinary artist Janani Balasubramanian on their newest work, The Gift.
- Attend 2-3 performances in Portland, possibilities include Theatre, Dance, and Live Music.
- Visit the Portland Art Museum.
- Behind the scenes tour of ADX – Art Design Xchange, Portland's premier maker space.
- Get to know other new students interested in the Arts.
- Learn about campus arts resources including Theatre, Dance, Art, Music and Creative Writing.
- Get advice about choosing classes and planning your 4 years at L&C.
- Meet arts faculty and current students from across L&C who make the arts a part of their college experience.
- Explore Portland beyond Palatine Hill
- Practice, experience and engage with the arts!

What will I gain from the program?

- An introduction to college life and the role the arts can play in your experience at L&C
- A network of friends and colleagues that share your interests
- Access to the Portland arts scene
- Familiarity with the Pioneer Express shuttle ("the Pio") and public transportation
- The chance to practice collaborative creation of art
- Creative problem solving and interdisciplinary engagement

Where will I stay during the trip?

During this immersive experience, all participants and trip leaders will stay together in a common area on the Lewis & Clark College campus. You won't be in your residence hall, but rather we'll share an "indoor camping" experience. Yep, that means sleeping on pads on the floor! The temperatures in Portland typically range from the low 60s to the high 80s (Fahrenheit) at this time of year. August is usually the driest month, but it has been known to rain, so bring appropriate clothing

How will I make sense out of the experiences I have during the trip?

Your trip will be led by current students. They will serve as your guides for the week, showing you their city and answering your questions about life at Lewis & Clark. We will spend time together as a group reflecting on and discussing our activities as well as having fun and making new friends.
